INSTITUTE OF INDUSTRIAL ENGINEERS

USING IE SKILLS TO MEASURE AND IMPROVE PROCESSES:
AN INTRODUCTION TO SYSTEMS ANALYSIS

MARCH 13-15, 1995 • DALLAS, TX
MARCH 27-29, 1995 • ORLANDO, FL

This course will systematically explain a systems approach by using IE skills. First, a systems approach to problem solving will be covered followed by how to measure a system by using classic IE skills. After measurement, process improvement techniques for systems will be emphasized concluding with methods to "pull it all together."

The course concerns applying and using IE skills rather than simply hearing lectures on the skills.

This seminar will help:
— move a person from "micro-IE" analysis (i.e. time study, workplace design, layout) to a systems and operations analysis
— systematically explain a systems approach to problem solving by using classic IE tools and skills
— uncover process improvement techniques for systems
— realize the methods to "put it all together."

Each participant receives a comprehensive seminar manual that will help in the implementation of a systems analysis.

For a free detailed brochure, including registration information, call the IIE Customer Service Center at 404/449-0460.
